MariBee, the Bee-focused conference that connects practice, research, and business in one place

Join us on

14-15 Sept. 2026 in Maribor/Slovenia

Organisers: UNIDO and University of Maribor

The conference duration is two days. It addresses (but is not limited to) the following topics:

- Bees as species: bee health/diseases, nutrition, genetics, diverse species ...
- Beekeeping: hive management, queen mating ...
- Innovation in beekeeping: ICT, novel beehives, fighting adulteration
- Climate changes: does the nature have a solution? Wild pollinators, stingless bees, nature/wild bees, crossbreeding ...
- Bee-related legislation in the EU and beyond: cadastres, hive registration, pasture orders, veterinary services ...
- Adding value to hive products: apitourism, gastronomy, apitherapy/alternative medicine, api-wellness ...
- Branding and marketing of hive-based products

Conference venue:

Faculty of Agriculture and Life Sciences (FALS), University of Maribor

Two conferences, One trip? (Two birds, one stone!)

The dates for the Maribor conference are coordinated with the EurBee Conference, taking place in Bologna, Italy, 7–11 September 2026. This allows participants—especially those travelling from other continents—to attend both conferences within a single European visit.

Travel time from Bologna to Maribor is approx. 5 hours 15 minutes by car. Along the way, you can visit top tourist destinations such as Venice, Trieste, the Postojna Cave with Predjama Castle, Ljubljana, and more. More information on the 11th EurBee 2026 Conference is available here: <https://www.eurbee2026.com>.
